The watchman went off to secure assistance and the men escaped.

ENFORCING THE EXCISE LAW.

It was said by some observers yesterday that to the presence of the Roosevelt Investigating Committee was due the rigid enforcement of the Excise law by the police vesterday. Liquor shops which lead never closed their side doors even in the disturbed period which immediately succeeded the introduction of the new Penal Code were shut up tight. The thirsty man travelled far to find a stimulating draught; but be the law ever sorigidly enforced there is always a side-door swinging free and loose for those who search far enough.

The "shuttle" trains on the Sixth Avenue Elevated road between Fifteeth and Fifty eighth sts. have proved a failure. They were not run vesterday. The experience of the previous Sunday showed that, in fair weather, the Harlem trains during the commission hours could not carry more than their own passengers. On that day the downtown station at Fiftieth-st., between 4 and 7 o'clock, was choked with passengers waiting to take a train. The trainmen say that the shuttle trains may do in bad weather and in the middle of the day, but that they are worse than uscless during the commission hours.

Captain Loud, of the brig Clara Jenkins, which arrived yesterday from Maranzas, reports the passage to have been a stormy one. On April 2 a gaie blew up from the southwest, increasing in fury until 11 p. in., when it was blowing a hurricane. There was a heavy sea, and the decks, cabin and fore-homse were flooded. The decks were swept and the cargo started. The gale moderating the next day, the cargo was secured. Two cays later another gale struck the brig, which sprang aleak, and the pumps were started. The cargo consisted of molasses, streams of which poured out of the pumps.

Officer White arrested Clinton Flanders, age eighteen, a clerk at No 257 Broadway. Brooklyn, and William Murphy, age twenty-two, a watter, of No. 32 Catherine-st. NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

IN THE INTEREST OF LAW AND ORDER. ARREST OF SUNDAY BALL PLAYERS IN JERSEY CITY

-OPEN GROG-SHOPS AT WHITESTONE.

Agang of New-York ruffians who make a practice of going to Jersey City on Sandays when the weather is fine for the purpose of playing ball have been the cause of great annoyance. Last Sunday a number of them got drunk and took possession of the street cars running to the ferry. They fought among themselves, refused to pay their fare, and shouted and used bad language. Another party, which went to New-York by the Central Railroad Ferry, got into a fight and broke several windows in the boat, besides terrorizing all the other passengers. Preparations were made by Chief of Police Murphy to receive the roughs yesterday, and a large force of policemen in citizen's dress went to the ball grounds, which are near the Central Railroad at the foot of Jersey-ave. Unobserved the police formed a circle around the crowd and at a signal closed in on the players and spectators. Chief Murphy had given instructions to capture all the men, it possible, and the result was the arrest of thirty-two priseners. They will be arraigued this morning.

the men, if possible, and the result was the arrest of thirty-two prisoners. They will be arraigned this morning.

The law-abiding citizens of Woodside, Long Island, are up in arms against the liquor-dealers of that place. During the summer months the place is infested with rowdies from New-York and Brooklyn who go there for the purpose of getting drunk. Sunday fights are of frequent occurrence, and after noon the women are afraid to go out alone. The roughs steal everything they can and wantonly destroy fences, flowers and vegetable patches. The citizens a few months ago organized a Law and Order Association for the purpose of closing the saloons on Sunday, of which John S. Powers, one of the wealthnest citizens, is chairman. Easter Sunday has been a field day for the roughs, and yesterday was no exception. Ten members of the association had been sworn in as special deputy sheriffs, and on Saturday night they informed grog shop keepers that the law would be enforced. They smiled and said "All right." The deputy sheriffs hired four expolicemen of Brocklyn to assist them. The policemen arrived at the Woodside station at the same time with 200 rough-looking young men. The rowdies scattered to the various grog shops in the neighborhood, and pool tables and card playing was in full blast in a few minutes. Justice Brandon, of Winfield, was in the railroad station while the Law and Order men went to the gin mills. The first place was Meyers's hotel, but Mr. Meyers was on the alert and only a few men were in the barroom innocently reading papers. The next point of attack was the place of Julius Adams. He kept his front door open and sold liquors to his thirsty patrons in defiance of Mr. Powers and his army. The Justice later informed Commander Powers that the policemen should leave the country as speedily as possible or they would be arrested and locked up for carrying concealed weapons and displaying shields without any authority from the Sheriff. The ex-policemen had received their money and were satisfied at their

THE SEASON AT THE WATERING PLACES.

Considerable activity was exhibited last week at the Long Island watering places preparing for the summer season. At Long Beech the work has been begun on the new bathing houses and laundry. The building will cost about $30,000. On Rockaway Beech, Wainwright & Kemsen, are building two cottages adjoining the Seaside House fronting on Jamacia Bay. At Fire Island several cottages are in course of erection. At Babvlon, the Argyle Hotel is being repainted and the grounds improved. At Shelter Island nine cottages are in course of construction and the amisement hall connected with the Prospect House is being converted into cottages. The Shelter Island Company has recently expended $5,000 in laying out new avenues and building bridges connecting High Peak. Extensive improvements are also being made at Far Rockaway, Isle of Wight, Lawis ice and Locust Point. At the Hamptons mest of the summer cottages have already been reated for the season. The Sands Point Hotel has fallen into the hands of Mr. Roch, a well-known caterer, and contracts for improvements to the amount of $12,000 bave already been awarded. At Bayshore a summer hotel to cost $100,000 is shortly to be built. The Oak Island Club House, in the Great South Bay, having been leased by John Mr Baylis, will be opened this season as a summer resort. THE SEASON AT THE WATERING PLACES. son as a summer resort.

A FAILURE IN PATERSON.

A FAILURE IN PATERSON.

Henry V. Butler, of Paterson, N. J., on Saturday made assignments both individually and as the surviving partner of H. V. Butler, jr., & Co., paper manufacturers, to James Jackson, president of the Second National Bank of Paterson. The paper mills are mortgaged for $120,000. Mr. Butler's habilities are $65,000. His individual assets are $7,325 and 1,456 shares of the Ivanhoe Manufacturing Company, which was incorporated shortly before the failure of H. V. Butler, jr., & Co., New-York, which occurred several months ago. His assets as the last partner of the firm consist of $51,500 in bonds of the Ivanhoe Company and $500 in cash. The assignes will for the present continue the work at the mills. Among Mr. Butler's creditors is his father-in-law, Justice J. P. Bradley, of the United States Supreme Court.

NEWARK.

NEWARK.

The body of John Rack, who committed suicide on Saturday night, was claimed by relatives from New-York yesterday and will be taken to No. 141 Sullivan-st. to-day. Each was not scarched at the police station when arrested for intoxication because only those are scarched who are to be detained and he was allowed to go with the understanding that he was to take the next train to New-York. Within half an hour he sat down on the steps of the house of Mrs. W. C. Clayton, No. 1,141 Broad-st., and shot himself.

A surveyor supposed to be employed by the Penn-

Broad-st., and shot himself.

A surveyor, supposed to be employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has been engaged for some time in copying the block maps of the lower section of the city in the City Surveyor office. He gave no explanation of the object of his work. On Saturday the City Surveyor, while in the Fourteenth Ward, found the marks of stakes indicating the survey of a line lifty feet wide and running from a point near the coal dumps directly across the meadows toward Point of Rocks. It is understood that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company intends to utilize the old West Line grant for the purpose of shortening the distance between Philadelphia and New-York for fast freight and passenger trains. This can be done by a direct course across the meadows, the construction of a new bridge on the Passale and connection with the bridge on the Hackensack, just completed. This would cut off Newark from the use of fast through trains.

PROFANITY, BLOWS AND A TRIAL.

The trustees of Whitestone, Long Island, held their regular meeting last Thursday evening. After the adjournment there was a fight between trustee Trapp and John Websier, foreman of the village fire brigade. Websier charged Trapp with taking various articles from the hook and ladder house. Trapp called Websier ablank liar and made an effort to strike him. Websier said: "If you repeat that I'll sunsh your lit the blank nose." Trustee Trapp repeated the remark with variations and emphasis. As he did Websier knocked him down in the Board room. Trustee Merritt, more courageous than his brother trustees, separated the men, and quiet was restored. On Friday morning Trapp swore out a warrant for the arrest of the foreman, charging him with assault and battery. The case was tried before Justice McKenna on Saturday, and occupied five hours. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, but recommended him to the mercy of the Court, "as the provocation was great, and Trapp hardly got as much as he deserved." The Justice fined Websiter $5. The trustees will discipline Trustee Trapp for using bad language. PROFANITY, BLOWS AND A TRIAL.

A BODY EXPOSED BY A BREAKDOWN.

A dilapidated hack which was slowly making its way across the car tracks at the entrance to the Bridge yesterday was suddenly brought to a standstill by all the spokes in a hind wheel breaking. Three Hebrews and a plain pine box two feet long were unceremoniously tambled into the street. The men picked themselves up and carefully replaced the box in the lack. Two of the men went for another vehicle while the third staid to watch the box. A crowd gathered and curious hands pulled a black cloth and some linen out of the box which left exposed the body of a child seven months old. The crowd became larger until several hundred persons were pushing and crowding to get a look at the dead body. The rumor spread that a child was being stolen. A reporter who was present learned that the body belonged to Benjamin Benjamin, who was taking it from Union Hill, Hoboken, to Broeklyn for burial. Benjamin soon appeared with another carriage and the funeral proceeded on its way across the Bridge. A BODY EXPOSED BY A BREAKDOWN.

We do not claim that, Hood's Sarsaparilla is " the only" med cine which deserves the confidence of the public; but we do claim that the universal voice of approval which comes from the thousands who have used it; the great curative power which it has over scrofula, dyspepsia, bilionsness, and all dis-cases caused by impure state or low condition of the blood and the great skill, experience, and care used in its preparation nake it worthy the full confidence of the public and entitle to be called " The Rellable Medicine."

"I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla in the Spring of 1883. when I was so weak i could not do my work. I must confess I had not a drop of faith in it, but it has made a new person of me.
